

Our Story

In February 2003, a group of women met and began to learn to quilt, each making a Log Cabin Quilt; the Bridge of the Gods Quilters was formed. Women in the group come from North Bonneville, Stevenson, and Husum in Washington, and Hood River and Cascade Locks in Oregon. They meet weekly and the second Saturday of each month at a church in Cascade Locks. Over the years, the group has completed many quilts: for Providence Hood River Memorial Hospital, to comfort community members in a time of crisis or for kindergarten children at the local elementary school. This community of quilters wanted to share their love of quilting with others and one member suggested the idea of painting wooden blocks, with a favorite quilt design from their childhood or another that just appealed to them, and mounting them on their homes or businesses. The Bridge of the Gods Quilt Block Trail was born. The blocks around the community of Cascade Locks and a few others in the county now number nearly 60. Proceeds from the sale of a 2' by 2' or 4' by 4' block are divided between cost for materials and contributions to the quilting group for fabric used in its charity work. We hope you enjoy this "trail" of historical and unique designs incorporated into warm blankets or wall hangings by quilt makers for decades.

- Bridge of the Gods Quilters

This colorful quilt block can be seen at #9 at the Historical Museum in Marine Park.

This floral inspired block can be seen at #47 on 626 SE Forest Ln.

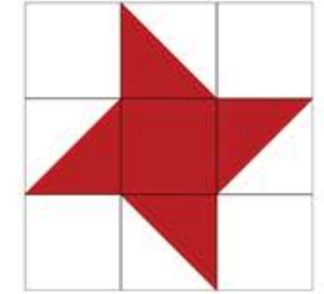

This Mariner's Compass inspired quilt block can be seen at #39 on 440 SW Forest Ln.

This beautiful Magnolia quilt block can be seen at #39 on 15 E Bailey Gatzert.

Bridge of the Gods Quilt Block Trail

Cascade Locks, Oregon

Disclaimer:

Every effort has been made to ensure the accuracy of the Bridge of the Gods Quilt Block Trail map but due to unforeseen circumstances some inaccuracies may occur.

Donations May be Sent to:

Bridge of the Gods Quilters
C/O: Marva Janik
PO Box 14
Cascade Locks, OR 97014

Brochure Sponsored By:

Front Cover Photo:
Star Over the Columbia, #29
on 55 Riverview Dr.

All Photos:
Michael Peterson

